RHODES SCHOLARS.

DOMINION AND AMERICAN
CRITICISM OF SYSTEM.

AN EXAMINATION.

Almost twenty-five years have passed since the election of the first group of Rhodes Scholars, and there has recently been considerable criticism of the scheme, especially in America. Four charges are so frequently met with that they deserve to be examined with care.

The Return of German Students.

It is now generally agreed that the Act of Parliament removing the German scholarships was a real mistake. It was done at the end of the war when feeling was running high, and when the arrival of German Rhodes Scholars at Oxford was admittedly unthinkable. The pre-war German scholars had all been young men of great promise, belonging to aristocratic families and nominated by the Kaiser. Their academic records at Oxford had been uniformly high. Many of them on their return were given official appointments, and there is now ample evidence to show that their influence was strongly Anglo-philic. It is interesting to learn that at the last Ex-Rhodes Scholars' dinner the announcement that two German scholars were present was greeted with general applause.

An Alien Environment.

It is frequently said that the young men of the Dominions, or America on arriving in Oxford find themselves in an alien environment, and one of two results follows, both undesirable and both destructive of the purpose Rhodes had in mind. Either these men find Oxford strange and uncongenial, or else Oxford takes hold of them, and moulds them to her own type. In the first case the man spends three unhappy years. In the second he enjoys himself, makes friends, and usually does well both in the schools and in sport, to find at the end of his time that he is out of touch with the land whence he came and anxious to find an excuse for not returning to it. In this criticism there is perhaps an element of truth, but it is not true to any serious extent of the mass of the Rhodes Scholars. The South Africans and New Zealanders, the Australians and New Zealanders, the Americans and Southern States, find it hardest to adapt themselves. The great majority of the scholars return to their native lands.

The Value of A 'Varsity Education.

The most serious charge brought against the scheme is that a vast amount of money has been spent on the education of many hundreds of Rhodes Scholars, and that the British Empire and the United States have to-day very little to show for it. Scarcely any of the scholars, it is argued, occupy positions of importance or have any appreciable influence on the lives of their own countries. This, if true, would be a very serious charge, but it is more than doubtful if there is any real foundation for it.

Too Many Rhodes Scholars?

The Rhodes scholarship scheme is often criticised by those whose first care is for Oxford. The late Public Orator was afraid of what might happen.

When all Australia comes to boil.

Its billy in the Quad, and there are still those who maintain that this invasion of Oxford, whatever it has done for the invaders, has not been in the best interests of the University. The number of Dominions men and Americans at Oxford to-day is admittedly very large, and this, on top of the feminine assault, is said to be likely to alter the character of the University. The earlier charge, that the ordinary Rhodes Scholar was far below the standard of an Oxford honours school, though true in the early days, is now without any foundation. Last year, indeed, the Rhodes Scholars had the proud distinction of taking a higher proportion of first and second class than the scholars on the various college foundations.

SIR IAN HAMILTON.

MAY APPEAR IN BRITISH FILM.

BASED ON GALLIPOLI CAMPAIGN.

There is a possibility, writes a correspondent in a Home paper, of Sir Ian Hamilton appearing in the new British War film based on the Gallipoli campaign. Sir Ian is enthusiastic about the undertaking.

This film will be adapted to the story of "Tell England," by Mr. Ernest Raymond, who is shortly leaving for Malta in connection with the operations.

The Government is lending troops, soldiers and naval ratings, and also warships, while the famous River Clyde will also make a "personal appearance." It is also possible that battle scenes for the film will be taken at Gallipoli. As in the case of the Falkland Islands film and "The Somme," the enemy is to be given a square deal.

Mr. Walter Summers, director of "Falkland Islands," will make "Gallipoli" in association with Mr. Bruce Wolfe as before, the producing firm being British Instructional Films (Ltd.).

BOGUS PAPER MONEY IN MANILA.

PHOTOGRAPH ARTISTS BUSY.

Bogus paper money in twenties is being produced right in the city, says the Manila Times.

One or more photograph artists are doing the falsifying.

The three bills reported to have been cashed at a local bank are in pesos, not in dollars as previously reported.

These are the salient developments in the report that counterfeit money is in actual circulation here.

Further investigation made by the Manila Times along this line indicates that there are many more of such counterfeit bills which have thus far escaped detection.

Close examination of the three P.20 bills which have been discovered shows that they are photographic reproductions of the real paper money of this denomination.

Both faces of the genuine bill were photographed and the resulting product skillfully pasted together. It appears that the "counter" was passed by inserting them between a pack of the genuine. It was only after the pack was sorted that the fraud was discovered, it is learned.

The fact that the fake bills are in pesos and not in dollars gives strength to the suspicion that the counterfeiters are operating in the city.

Up to this time the "victimized" bank has not decided whether to let the secret service handle the case or not. It is presumed, however, that they will do so before long.

A BURGLARIOUS BOB.

COERCING GRANDMA INTO BEING FASHIONABLE.

Bobbing the hair still causes commotions in Japanese families. The other day two young maidens, the parents of one of whom had objected to the operation, went off together leaving a note saying that they had decided that life under such tyranny was not worth living. A still more curious case is now reported. When they woke on the morning of the 13th instant at their residence in Nagata-cho 3-chome, Edo, Mrs. Hirao Emiko, aged 59, and Emiko, her 13-year-old granddaughter, found their hair bobbed, though it had been long when they went to bed. Concluding that this was the act of a burglar, the father of the maid reported it at the Hiyashida Police Station. Detectives inspected the residence, but found no trace of the house being burgled, so suspicions fell on Miss Emiko, a smart young girl, who finally confessed that her long hair was incongruous with her foreign style dress, and as her parents, more especially her grandmother, objected to her bobbing, she invented the entry of a night visitor and cut off not only her own hair, but grandma's as well. She was severely lectured both by the police and by her family. But as Omari nearly said, all her tears will not put back one hair of it—Japan Chronicle.

CINEMA NEWS.

"THAT'S MY BABY."

AMUSING COMEDY AT THE QUEEN'S.

THE WEEK'S PROGRAMMES.

[BY OUR FILM CRITIC.]

"That's My Baby" is a light comedy with a good many really amusing situations. The story is a little thin and would have been better, we think, condensed as a curtain raiser, but it is pleasant, light hearted stuff which leaves one no time to be bored. "That's My Baby" and films of the same shell may not be very memorable, but they do make a restful interlude in a busy life. Douglas Maclean again cannot be said to rank among the great comedians; but, unlike them, he makes no demand upon your emotions, and there is certainly a place for this unassuming type of film to-day.

The story of the irresponsible young connoisseur of ankles (Maclean) the ferocious stockbroker and his charming heroine daughter, rings true, despite its farcical situations, because it is a story as old as Cinderella. It has been told by story tellers all the world over. The heroine is played by Margaret Morris whom we hope to see more of, and her father by Claude Gillingwater who is an old friend and a very amusing one.

THE WEEK'S PROGRAMMES.

Star.

To-day: Jackie Coogan in "The Boy of Flanders," adapted from a Ouida novel. To-morrow and Wednesday: "The Dressmaker from Paris," a very charming and well acted film starring Lettrice Joy. Thursday to Saturday: Pola Negri in "The Spanish Dancer," a historical play of the court of Philip IV.

FILMS IN THE JUNGLE.

NATIVE'S MARVELLOUS WORK WITH CAMERA.

CHASED BY LEOPARDS.

All London is discussing the extraordinary photographs in "Chang," a film taken in the heart of the jungle in Siam by two young Americans.

Nearly a dozen people risked their lives day and night for three years to make the picture. They lived in the heart of the jungle hundreds of miles from the nearest native village in constant fear of death from cholera or malaria, from the bite of poisonous snakes or the savage attacks of any of the great beasts of the jungle.

A family of natives pursued through the forest by two leopards which are shot, a second before reaching a little child, a tiger thirsting for blood, which chases a man up a tree and remains furious and growling below; a whole village turned to match-wood under the stampede of enraged elephants—these are some of the pictures of jungle life which were obtained almost by a miracle.

There is no question of built-up sets or faking in this extraordinary film. The two photographers were nearly three years in the virgin forest, and their only companions were the natives who appear in the picture.

Stampede Of Elephants.

Some of the secrets were disclosed to a newspaper representative. When the father of the native family—Kru—is chased through the jungle by a leopard, he finally has to climb up a tree to escape from the animal's jaws. For several minutes the leopard remains below trying to reach him. During all this time, one of the best native "shots" was perched on the top of another tree, nearly aiming at the leopard as it chased Kru. Had the animal got too near, it would immediately have been shot. Meanwhile, one of the photographers was perched on yet another tree, taking photographs of the drama below.

The stampede of the elephants, which is another of the triumphs of the film, was photographed by a man entrenched in a pit with his camera pointing upwards. Hundreds of angry elephants trampled the ground all round him, but he escaped unhurt.

In another part of the picture Kru is chased by two leopards. When the first is about 50 yards from him, he turns round and shoots it dead. What would have happened had he missed his aim? There was a pit between him and the leopard over which was stretched a few green leaves and sprigs. Had Kru missed his aim, he knew the animal would fall into the pit.

Not satisfied with this feat, Kru courted death even closer; a moment later, he did not shoot the leopard's mate, but allowed it to come nearer and nearer until it fell into the pit just a few yards away from him.

No film has probably required more nerves and called for such sacrifice on the part of explorers. Experts consider that it is a unique picture of jungle life.

CHINESE CURE FOR ASTHMA.

BEING INTRODUCED INTO LONDON.

LONDON, Oct. 12th.

There is new hope for those suffering from asthma in the form of a drug, synthetically reproduced, and contained in a curative plant, Ma Huang, which has been known to the Chinese for thousands of years. It is one of the features of the Medical Exhibition being held at Westminster.

European doctors all these years have endeavoured to obtain supplies, but suspicious Chinese who regard the plant as a certain cure allowed little to come to the West. Recently, English chemists discovered a plant containing a new drug which they named Ephedrine. Though the quantity procurable is insufficient for testing its efficacy, they are now manufacturing large quantities synthetically.

PHILIPPINE PEARL INDUSTRY.

NEW METHODS OR WILL DISAPPEAR.

The pearl industry in the Philippines will disappear in 50 years unless old methods of pearl fishing are discarded and government restrictions enforced, according to officials of the Bureau of Commerce and Industry who recently arrived from an inspection trip in the south. Pearl beds are being exhausted as a result of antiquated methods employed by pearl divers, they said.

There are also several concerns engaged in the pearl industry which openly violate the laws by fishing out of season, it was stated. Strict enforcement of the laws and rigorous punishment for the offenders are recommended for the protection of the industry.—Manila Times.

SEA TRAINING OF NAVAL CADETS.

MINESWEEPERS INSTEAD OF A BATTLESHIP.

ODD CHANGE OF POLICY.

During the next few weeks, says the Naval and Military Record, the Carstairs and Forbes will be cruising amongst Western ports and the Channel Islands with parties of naval cadets on board. These vessels are minesweepers of 800 tons apiece which have been adapted to the requirements of their present work. But the question has been raised, and not unreasonably we think, as to whether such craft are really suitable to the purpose of sea training. In the first place, what is meant by sea training? The programme of the Carstairs and the Forbes shows a round of visits to places only a few hours' steaming apart. Of course, regular shipboard routine, watch-keeping duties, and the like could be imparted without leaving harbour at all. If one of the ideas is to make the cadets feel their sea legs this is likely to be pretty effectually realized on board such comparatively small vessels during what are usually the two stormiest months of the year.

Formerly Large Ships Used.

One is tempted to recall past views on the subject of the sea training of naval cadets as expressed in the class of ships chosen for the purpose. Before the war the "County" cruisers Cumberland and Cornwall were told off for this duty, ships of 8,800 tons displacement. In those days the cadets went for blue water voyages, and consequently received sea training in the real significance of the term, and in a full-fledged warship environment. After the war the admiralty dedicated the battleship Thunderer to the work.

The change from a 23,000-ton vessel to an 800-ton craft seems so extreme that one rather wonders just how it has been arrived at. Is it that there are not other more suitable craft available for the purpose? Or is it that the opinion now held is that sea training during the present regime does not really matter much since the cadets are bound to get plenty of it after passing out?

The Dartmouth Spirit.

Such an idea seems rather a compromise with the sound principles of training. We hear a good deal about the "Dartmouth spirit," but the sense of professionalism is scarcely likely to be fostered on the same scale in a minesweeper as in a first-class cruiser or a capital ship. Indeed, sea training on present lines almost suggests the notion of a process of elimination rather than of encouragement. A month in a minesweeper in continuously dirty weather might well bring a youngster to the conclusion that the sea is a much over-rated profession.

TANGO AND TREASON.

BUDAPEST, Sept. 20th.

The favourite Tango of the season, which for months has been heard in every restaurant and private house in Budapest, has been the cause of an amusing misunderstanding in Transylvania. The Tango, which is called "You just shall be mine," is regarded by the Roumanian authorities as having a dangerous "irresistible tendency" for they interpret the backed-up sentiment of the refrain, "I have no possession, but hope, and yet you just shall be mine," as expressing the determination of the Hungarians to regain Transylvania. The Bucarest paper, Quintul, adds the Roumanian Government to suppress the song and take steps against anyone who is heard singing it.

JOCKEY CLUB MEETING.

BRIGHTER RACING AT HAPPY VALLEY.

BAD DAY FOR PUNTERS

[BY RAPHER.]

The Hong Kong Jockey Club's Seventh Extra Race Meeting on Saturday was favoured with glorious weather, a good attendance, good music and good racing with more than the usual amount of uncertainty about it. The recently elected Stewards were there in full force and many other prominent people were present. Amongst the Ladies noticed who have recently returned to the Colony were Mrs. Shepton, Mrs. J. J. Paterson, and Mrs. Pearce. There was not a dull moment as each upset in racing form added interest to the sport.

Mr. Col. Hall Brutton, I regret to learn, is indisposed and I trust he will quickly recover as he is one of the pillars of local racing and has done a vast amount of work for the Club. His place as Starter was taken by Mr. H. C. Macnamara who did not do so badly as appeared from the enclosure. It takes some time to get used to a new Starter's methods and the Jockeys inform me that in most cases it was their own fault when they were left. A little confusion is understandable but I noticed that Charles never allowed himself to be covered with it. He did extraordinarily well and his reception from the public was evidence of the popularity of his successes. Usher rode a nice race on Warrington and paid the biggest dividend of the day. This pony has just come down from Shanghai and it had previously only won a selling race there. Mr. P. Tester's return to the Colony was heralded by the victory of his pony Bing Boy with Mr. Stanton up. Mr. Ho Kom Tong did not have a very good day but, after all, it is not a bad thing to see wins well distributed; it has a bracing effect upon us all. The general arrangements were excellent and the Jockey Club Officials have every reason to be pleased with their labours.

The Racing.

First Race.—Charles won! City Hall was a bad second and September did well to finish third. It was an atrocious start although the jockeys concerned tell me it was their own fault—a confession that does not excuse what ought to have been the best race of the day being turned into a procession.

Second Race.—In a field of fourteen the favourite Bright Eve had no difficulty in winning and it was just as well that Charles came down the straight on the outside as his mount kept running wide and in a bunch this might have cramped his style. Loch Ramoch did well to finish second with Barley Grass third.

Third Race.—Stanton scored a good course on Bing Boy and won comfortably from Festive Eve with Grey Knight third. Kom Tong Hall was the second disappointment for Mr. Ho Kom Tong's stable.

Fourth Race.—The favourite, Castle Hall went badly from the start and it looked as though the fight would be between Total Abstinence and The Gomeril but Misty Eve came through with a fine rush at the distance post to win by half a length.

Fifth Race.—Warrington kept with the field and came away in the straight to win without being pressed. Hon Sin just beat The Gomeril for second place. Usher's win was a gratifying one as he is an Owner jockey and a rider of merit in the home turf.

Sixth Race.—Shanghai Friend was a hot favourite in a field of three. He was running neck and neck with August almost up to the distance post when Loch Tummel came along somewhat unexpectedly to win with comparative ease, leaving August to take second place, with favourite last.

Seventh Race.—This was a fairly slow race and Dobbin was allowed to go ahead and win from the beginning. Butler deserves full marks for his performance and I am inclined to think that had the other riders in the race kept up with him at the outset a different story would have to be told. Limestone Hall was second and Mowgli third.

Eighth Race.—The last race gave Mr. Ho Kom Tong his first victory at the meeting with Town Hall winning by many lengths leaving Flash Star and May to fill the places.

APPLICATION AT BANKRUPTCY COURT.

SIR HENRY GOLLAN'S JUDGMENT.

At a sitting of the Bankruptcy Court on Saturday morning, the Chief Justice (Sir Henry Gollan) delivered judgment in a case which concerned debtors involved in bankruptcy who were in prison.

The judgment was given in connection with an application previously made by Mr. E. S. C. Brooks, who had asked for the release of two debtors.

In the course of his judgment, His Lordship said that Mr. Brooks had informed the Court when he made his application that the two debtors had been arrested in the execution of judgment and that he was not in a position to proceed with the application of a receiving order. Without producing any evidence as to the nature of the judgment on which the debtors had been arrested and without having given to the Official Receiver or anybody else any notice of his intention to do so, he had asked the Court to make an order under the Bankruptcy Ordinance for the discharge of the debtors from prison.

His Lordship, after referring to various sections bearing on the point of law involved, said that it was clear that a debtor was not entitled without qualification for his release under such circumstances. Otherwise it would mean such a debtor merely by filing a petition and representing in Court that he was not ready for going on with it could effect his release from prison without giving the judgment creditor an opportunity to object or the Official Receiver the opportunity of showing that a receiving order should not be made against a debtor because of insufficiency of assets.

SCHOOL BAZAARS.

ITALIAN CONVENT AND ST. STEPHEN'S GIRLS' COLLEGE.

ARTISTIC WORK BY STUDENTS.

Some very artistic work was on sale at the annual bazaar of the Italian Convent held on Saturday and yesterday, and at the bazaar organised by the girls of the St. Stephen's Girls' College in aid of the funds of the M.C.L.

H.E. the Officer Administering the Government, the Hon. Mr. W. T. Southern, C.M.G., opened the bazaar of the Convent on Saturday. Among those present were his Lordship Bishop H. Valorta.

The grounds of the convent was tastefully decorated and there was a large gathering of friends and well-wishers. For the children there were the "Toyland and the Candy Stall," where a brisk business was done. A variety of "side shows" provided attractions for young and old alike.

The bazaar was continued yesterday when there were again a large gathering.

ST. STEPHEN'S COLLEGE.

Mrs. W. T. Southern opened the sale of work in the College grounds organised by the girl students of St. Stephen's College on Saturday. The proceeds of the sale are for the M.C.L.

The result, said His Lordship, would be that a dishonest applicant might deliberately refrain from making application for a receiving order and make use of the procedure to get out of prison without intention of prosecuting his petition and with the intention of flying the country.

The application would be dismissed.

WHY DISPLAY POSTERS AND SHOUT WATCH-WORDS?

GENERAL LI TSAI HSIN'S REVIEW OF POLITICAL AND MILITARY AFFAIRS.

A PLEA FOR THE ENDING OF FACTIONAL STRIFE.

REFERENCES TO WANG CHING WEI, CHIANG KAI SHEK AND WU HAN MIN.

An exceedingly interesting review of political and military affairs was given to the students of the Sun Yat Sen University by General Li Tsai Hsin on October 24th. A translation of the speech was supplied to Reuters' Agency for transmission to the Hong Kong newspapers, and this is given below. It is difficult to follow some of the statements made, but enough is clear to show the trend of General Li Tsai Hsin's policy.

Following a plea for the ending of factional strife he asked the students what was the use of putting up posters and shouting watch-words. In his view the means adopted in the Revolutionary movement during the past two years have been fundamentally wrong. It was a mistake, he said, for the students to call meetings, for the labourers to parade every day and for the peasants to come to the cities to carry out their respective movements. The revolution had to be carried out through intelligence and intellect. There was much to be done in Kwangtung but owing to the lack of suitable persons to undertake it, the work of reconstruction was only a farce. They must not rely upon war but upon the establishment of schools for training up worthy students.

THE STUPIDITY OF THE BOYCOTT.

A pointed reference was made to the relationship between the Kuomintang and foreigners and to the stupidity of the boycott weapon. "From the military point of view," said General Li Tsai Hsin, "we expect to overthrow Imperialism, but with what shall we put it down. They have big cannon and battleships. From the economic point of view, most of our clothing and utensils are made by the Imperialists. It is more than ridiculous for us to try and pull down others when we cannot stand firm."

THE REASON FOR THE NORTHERN EXPEDITION.

Dealing with military affairs in the Yangtze, the statement was made that the expedition against the Northern war-lord was undertaken simply and solely to save Tang Seng Chi who, however, had since turned out to be "an untrustworthy fellow." It had not been the intention to start upon such an expedition until internal affairs were more settled and there was considerable opposition to it. When Tang had been re-established in Hunan his ambition was "greatly enhanced." He associated with the Communists to overthrow Chiang Kai Shek and thus the split between Hankow and Nanking began.

The opinion was expressed that the Tupan of Shanai, with the help of the Christian General and the Nanking forces, would certainly overthrow Chang Tso Lin.

THE GENERAL SITUATION IN CHINA.

General Li Tsai Hsin said:—During the recent Fengtien-Shanai war, public opinion has seemed to be in favour of Fengtien, but in reality, the outcome will be advantageous to Yen. Although Chang Tso Lin has more or less practical power, he lacks the co-operation of other parties. Yen Shek Shan, in spite of his handicap in military forces, will certainly overthrow Chang on the arrival of Feng Yu Hsiang's troops and the Nanking armies.

The Yangtze Valley.

In the Yangtze Tang Seng Chi is a person worthy of serious attention. Though the subversive activities of the Communists have been responsible for the break-up of the Kuomintang yet Tang Seng Chi cannot escape part of the responsibilities. It may be recalled that after being defeated and driven out of Hunan by Chiang Kai Shek with the assistance of Wu Pei Fu last June, Tang then removed his family to Kwangtung, appealing to our Nationalist Government for help and admission into our Party through the medium of his representative. Taking pity on him, our Government started the expedition even at this cost. It was not the original intention of our Government at that moment to embark upon hostilities against the Northern war-lords to the furtherance of our developments without having the internal affairs well settled. Messrs. Chu Pei Tek and Tan Yen Kai and the comrades of the 2nd and 3rd Armies were strongly opposed to immediate action because they well knew the history of Tang who is an untrustworthy fellow. But on account of his pitiful request and the opposition of only a minority, the Nationalist Government ordered the troops in Kwangsi to attack Chiang Kai Shek. With Hunan completely under his control, Tang's ambition was greatly enhanced. He then established many departments, such as education, reconstruction, etc., making Hunan as his own dominion. Turning all the attention to the military operations, our Nationalist Government could spare no effort to stop him. In Wuhan he again forcibly occupied all the tax and revenue stations. With all these facts, Commander-in-Chief Chiang Kai Shek could not help from checking his activity. Tang, however, did not amend his wrongs but he showed great dissatisfaction with Chiang. Failing to get support from the Kuomintang members, but attempting to overthrow Chiang, he associated with the Communists to upset the projects of our Party. Thus the split began.

He knew pretty well that after the reconciliation of the Nanking and Hankow Parties, his position could no longer be maintained. He, therefore, sent representatives to consult Wu Pei Fu, Sun Chuan Fang and Chang Tso Lin before the reconciliation came into being. After the removal of our Capital to Nanking, he despatched troops under Ho Kin and Liu Ching to occupy Anhui so as to co-operate with Sun Chuan Fang. He planned to capture Nanking in case Sun Chuan Fang could get Chinkiang; but in vain, because Sun was utterly defeated with the loss of 30,000 strong. Thus he had to stay in Wuhan without further advance. He came to the realization that his secrets had been divulged and there was no room for him in the Party. His last struggle was to return to Wuhan and he declared his independence of the Nanking Government.

Order has been issued from Nanking to attack him. On the 20th instant Wuhan was taken. A division under Lui Hing went over to Nanking while the remnants escaped to Tai Tung. It is anticipated that within these two days Anhui will be completely conquered.

Party Affairs.

Hence the forming of the Nanking Special Commission is contradictory to the constitution of our Party; re-organization is necessary. The nature of the re-organization will be somewhat similar to that of the Political Council. The joint conference of the Executive and Supervisory Committees will be held on November 1st. The members of the Shansi Party will not be admitted in the Central Kuomintang but only in the local Kuomintang. Comrade Wang Chi Wei has shown no objection to this proposal and through this means the misunderstandings and other problems of the Party may be solved.

Situation Of Kwangtung.

With regard to the attack against Tang Seng Chi, we have been quite prepared and have concentrated 30,000 strong in Shikwan ready to march into Hunan. All arrangements have been made but not announced yet. The Headquarters of the 8th Route and the Second-side of the Revolutionary Armies have been abolished. All military affairs will be under the control and direction of the Provisional Military Council. One part of the troops will attack Tang and another part will maintain peace and order in the rear. In order to fulfil our expectation of building up a new Kwangtung, first of all we have to tackle the problem of bandits, the solution for which has been decided and will soon be put into operation by the Political Council, i.e., troops will be detailed in different districts.

Political Affairs In Kwangtung.
The Political Council and Provincial Government are jointly responsible for the political affairs. Proposals have been prepared and are ready to be presented to the conference of the Executive and Supervisory Committee to be held on November 1st. No other questions will arise from the solved problems.

Since the reorganization of the Provincial Party problems of the past have been solved, but owing to the absence of many appointed committees, the Party affairs seemed to be paralysed for a time. At present a few additional Committees have been appointed by the Political Council to do their utmost in the work of reorganization. The City Party is in the same condition. The cause for the paralysing of the party affairs is not because of certain factions but because of internal Party strifes.

The internal strifes are outlined as follows:—The first is the difference of points. Comrade Wang said: "There have been two strifes in our Party: the Shisan Conference and the Nanking-Wuhan split. The principal cause of the first strife is due to the aim at the future prospects of the Nationalist Revolution and the Kuomintang itself after the admission of the Communist Party into the Kuomintang. The cause of the Nanking-Wuhan split is somewhat identical except with some importance attached to the questions of the general constitutions and the fundamental dangers to our Party."

The second is factions. There have hitherto been existing many factions in the Party, i.e., Leftist, Rightist, Shisan faction, Stick faction, C.Y., and C.P. This is indeed the main cause of the strife. Hitherto a number of our comrades just like the Shisan faction were impressed by the Communist Party and were quite determined to expel them from our Party. Their idea was good but their action was a breach of policies and orders of the Party. Now we are all aware of the facts and should unite together as far as possible without any future growth of different factions.

In dealing with the communists many favoured extreme actions. Prior to the "Purge Party" movement it was the advocacy of our Party to admit the communists but after the said movement, secret league with the communists will be illegal. Consequently we now consider these questions absolutely of past importance. Coming to the point of division of factions, I am of opinion that owing to corruption of the followers of Comrade Hu Han Min, Comrade Wang Ching Wei showed great dissatisfaction with them as well as Comrade Hu. Comrade Hu's history and personality should deserve of our admiration and this cannot be depreciated and destroyed only on account of the misconduct of his co-workers. Comrade Wang displayed the same attitude towards Chiang Kai Shek. Comrades Wang, Hu and Chiang have been close associates in undertakings connected either with the Party or individuals. I have written Comrade Wang a letter relative to the past and future affairs concerning them and the Party. Though my opinions, I believe, would not meet with Comrade Wang's perfect confidence, yet the most part seem to be worthy of his serious approval. Furthermore the existence of factions in one party is responsible for the creation and continuance of internal strifes. With the propaganda and attacks pertaining to the weakness and defection of the Party launched upon each other, things will be more and more complicated. Nanking-Wuhan split is the outcome of the internal strife.

Undesirable Elements.

We are ashamed of the fact that throughout a whole year's time, we achieved nothing, good besides expulsion of the Communists. At the moment of extirpating the Communists, we accepted those who have of revolutionary spirit to oppose the Communists, as our comrades regardless of their history. Though some undesirable elements have come in, yet on the whole they could do no harm to us. Hereafter, we must unite together standing on the platform of the Kuomintang to deal with the Communists and must not discriminate between ourselves as Wong Party or Hu Party, and Chiang Party, lest our internal problems become more complicated and our enemies attack us from behind.

Another great mistake which we have committed is that we too often criticize others no matter whether they could or could not manage the case well. So far as he is Wang's man, Chiang's or Hu's will attack him, and it will be the same reversed. Thus we not only have slipped over many capable workers of the Kuomintang, but our internal troubles will never come to an end. The more parties we divided ourselves into, the more enemies we shall meet with, and the less effort we can put forth to resist our foes. It is both logically and fundamentally wrong. Let us talk less and think more.

Advice To The Students.

To enable the students to study for the sake of knowledge, which is the proper and fundamental way of training students, our Principal Dai and Vice-principal Chu have done their utmost. The means of our revolutionary movement in the last two years were fundamentally wrong. It was a mistake for students to call meetings, labourers to parade every day and peasants to come to cities to carry out their respective movements. There is hope for our Party and Country if we can provide good schools, but it will be still hopeless if we do not train up worthy students. In that case we could never expect to have capable men to carry out the principles of our Party for the benefit of our country. What is the use for posting those posters, and shouting those watch-words. We have to build our revolution through intelligence and intellect which may be considered as the fundamental process. Kwangtung has passed the period of military administration and is now in the period of training administration. There is much to be done, but owing to the lack of suitable persons, the work of reconstruction is but a farce.

From the military point of view, we expect to overthrow Imperialism, and with what shall we put it down? They have big cannon and battleships. From the economic point of view, most of our clothing and utensils are made by the Imperialists. It is more than ridiculous for us to try and pull down others when we cannot stand firm.

The chief aim of Messrs. Dai and Chu was to make you all work hard, but when failing in their attempts, they left in great sorrow. I firmly believe that the future processes of revolution will not rely upon wars but the establishment of schools. The prospects of our University are boundless and Principals Dai and Chu will soon come back again to manage the whole. Furthermore there will be no worry about the vengeance of those students who have been imprisoned for they have to pass through the legal processes. We have definitely decided policies which will solve all outstanding problems. Finally, General Li said that he hoped that the students would see eye to eye with the Principal in all matters, would work hard with their lessons and disbelieve rumours. Their chief aim should be: "Study for the sake of the revolution."

THE BOYCOTT TROUBLE.

PAY OF THE CHIEF PICKET.

TWENTY PER CENT. OF THE VALUE OF ALL GOODS SEIZED.

MR. SOONG EXPECTED IN HONG KONG.

It is stated that until the further expansion of the Boycott, the Society which is organising it has commissioned Wong Hoi to act as chief picket. Wong Hoi desires to have 20 per cent. of the value of all goods seized by his men, but the Society are to have another meeting to consider these terms. Hong Kong Chinese merchants are shipping only small quantities of goods to Canton these days in order to avoid possible difficulties.

It has been decided by the Kuomintang newspapers and by the Provincial Government that Canton will support Nanking and not Wuhan. This is taken as evidence that General Li Tsai Hsin's policy has prevailed and that Mr. Wang Ching Wei, who was believed to be a supporter of Hankow, has decided to co-operate with him.

[FROM OUR CHINESE CORRESPONDENT.]

The Society for the Extension of the anti-British Boycott in Canton recently seized some plate glass from a Nishin Kishi Kisha boat, and upon protest of the Japanese merchants, it was decided to look into the case. The Society may release the cargo on finding that the goods are not British in origin.

Commissioner Chu, of the Canton Police, as requested by the British Consulate-General, is taking up the matter of the recent seizure of 50 cases of gasoline shipped by the Asiatic Petroleum Company. The Society for the Extension of the anti-British Boycott, however, is asking for time to give further consideration to the matter.

The Canton Sea Food Workers' Union have advised the Boycott Committee that America is not a British colony and that goods from that country should not be captured as British goods. The boycott pickets are holding a consignment of dried fish products from America.

Foreigners in Canton desiring to import British goods for private use, and not on behalf of Chinese dealers, may procure a permit from the Committee. It has been decided. In view of the action of the boycott pickets in Canton in trying to seize whatever goods are suitable to them and easy to carry away, Canton-bound travellers from Hong Kong are being advised by their friends to bring as little baggage as possible. The pickets have not yet dared to enter the wharves, but as soon as the passengers go out of the wharf they are subject to search.

SWATOW.

The several Norwegian steamers plying between Siam and Swatow, when arriving at Swatow, will be boycotted, according to a decision of the Chinese Seamen's Union, the Stevedores' Union, and the Hotel Workers' Union. The boycott, it was stated, would be effective from November 5th. The reason given for this step is that one of the ship masters ordered corporal punishment for a member of the crew.

the incriminating documents seized in the Soviet Embassy in Peking, a short time ago.

It should be the duty of the Chinese Government and the Governments of the Foreign Powers carefully to watch the movements of the "Family" and their Russian "friends," and the members of the "Red" gang in Canton.

Leopards never change their spots!

We must all unite against the common enemy.

These traitors and enemies of China and Civilization, should be driven out of China, bag and baggage, and banished for ever. They should be "excommunicated," and their rights of citizenship taken away from them.

What China urgently needs are some strong and incorruptible men of the stamp and character of Generals Wu Pei Fu and Chan Kwing Ming, whose policy and ambition has always been to work for the peace and prosperity of China and her long-suffering millions.

The "Reds" are doomed to destruction, but when will the people rise and rid themselves of their cruel and merciless oppressors! Where are China's patriots? Yours truly,

VOX POPULI.

LI TSAI HSIN'S COMMON-SENSE.

JUDGING from the speech he delivered to the students of the SUN YAT SEN University, General LI TSAI HSIN is a man of sound practical common-sense. If similar advice had been given to students throughout China two years ago, and had been acted upon, a tremendous amount of misery might have been avoided and the country would have been in a far happier and more prosperous condition than it is to-day.

In making a strong plea for unity in the Kuomintang the General put his finger on the weak spot in Chinese politics. There had been, he said in effect, a far too great tendency to follow individuals rather than principles. They were apt to criticise leaders regardless of the fact that they might have done their best in difficult circumstances. So long as they were known as WANG's men, or CHIANG's men or HU's men there were bound to be unfortunate divisions and their internal troubles would never come to an end. He was ashamed, he said, that throughout the whole year they had achieved nothing but the expulsion of the communists. There was much to be done in Kwangtung but owing to the lack of suitable persons to undertake important duties the work of reconstruction was a farce. This is plain speaking, but the situation demanded it and we should like, if we might be permitted to do so, to congratulate General LI TSAI HSIN upon his courage. His bravery on the field of battle has doubtless been exemplified on many occasions, but it requires a different kind of courage to mount a public platform and to speak the truth, however unpalatable it may prove to be. General LI has written a letter on this and other subjects to Mr. WANG CHING WEI. He admitted that his views might not entirely coincide with those of Mr. WANG but he expressed the hope they would form the basis for thought and consideration. We hope so too and trust that Mr. WANG CHING WEI, as a politician, and General LI, as a military leader, will be able to co-operate in a form of Government which will prove of benefit to the people of Kwangtung.

An indirect reference was made to the economic weapon which showed that General LI is shrewd enough to realise the stupidity of the boycott. He is not a man apparently who is willing to cut off his nose to spite his face. "We expect to overthrow Imperialism," he said "as the result of the Revolution, but with what? The Imperialists have big cannon and battleships. From the economic point of view most of our clothing and utensils are made by the Imperialists. It is more than ridiculous for us to try and pull down others when we cannot stand firmly." We only wish that more Chinese would look facts in the face in this way. The continued existence of the Imperialists does not mean failure to the revolution. On the contrary, as General LI pointed out, the revolution will fail if it depends upon war; the path of success lies more in the way of peace, in the establishment of schools and the training of worthy students. Upon lines such as these it might be found that the Imperialists could co-operate with, and be of the greatest assistance to, the staunchest of revolutionaries, and in the course of that co-operation it might possibly be realised, also, that the aims and objects of both sides were not widely dissimilar. The revolutionaries say that their ultimate object is a peaceful, contented and prosperous China. The Imperialists would certainly not stand in the way of the attainment of that desire, but would be very willing to do everything in their power to achieve it. As General LI suggested, no advantage is gained by the students placarding the streets with posters and shouting watchwords, by the labourers organising parades or the peasants crowding into the cities to further some political movement. He asked them "to talk less and to think more." If that advice were taken to heart how infinitely brighter China's prospects would be.

NAVY ON THE ALERT.

THE MESSAGE FROM THE "HYDRANGEA."

WAS A PIRACY PREVENTED.

There was another rumour of piracy when messages were sent to the cinemas and other places of entertainment on Friday evening recalling men of H.M.S. Sterling back to their ship.

No piracy occurred but it is thought probable there would have been one had it not been for the prompt naval action taken.

The steamer concerned was the s.s. Hydrangea (Capt. T. H. Ball), which plies between Hong Kong and Swatow, and was formerly on the Hong Kong-Kwang Chow Wan run. Just before leaving Swatow on Friday for Hong Kong Captain Ball received word from his agents that pirates, or at least some very suspicious characters had taken passage on the ship. It was suspected that these men intended to attack the ship before its arrival here.

The information was conveyed to H.M.S. Foghorn, and a signal sent from Hong Kong, the message being intercepted by H.M.S. Bluebell which was on her way to Foochow.

The Bluebell intercepted the Hydrangea about 10.30 p.m. on Friday night, called upon her to stop, and, as a precautionary measure, placed an armed guard on board.

In the meantime the H.M.S. Sterling left to meet the Hydrangea, and escorted her back to Hong Kong, from Chiling Point.

A party of police and detectives searched all passengers at the wharf very rigorously, but no arms were found, and consequently no arrests could be made.

It is believed in official quarters that pirates were actually on board, but that the arrival of the Bluebell and the armed guard damped their ardour. It is thought that they threw their arms overboard, or otherwise disposed of them, probably not a difficult task on a fairly crowded boat.

KOWLOON MOTOR FATALITY.

ARMY LORRY KNOCKS DOWN CHINESE.

On Friday afternoon an aged Chinese was knocked down by a Morris six-wheeler, driven by Pte. Charles, R.A.S.C., and was killed.

It appears from the report that the motor lorry was travelling from Nathan Road in the direction of the Star Ferry. The Chinese ran across the road in front of the vehicle near the junction of Nathan Road and Argyle Street. Realizing his danger at the last moment, the man tried to turn back, and not anticipating this indecision, the driver of the lorry was unable to swerve to avoid the collision.

The man received injuries to the head and died in hospital.

A VISIT TO SHAMEEN

MR. WANG CHING WEI AND MR. T. V. SOONG.

LOOKING UP OLD FRIENDS.

[FROM OUR CHINESE CORRESPONDENT.]

Mr. Wang Ching Wei and Mr. T. V. Soong, both members of the Kuomintang Central Executive Committee in Canton, spent an afternoon on Shameen last Friday, paying a visit to the French and the American Consulate-General. Mr. Wang has been many years in France, where he was some time a student, and Mr. Soong has many American friends. Mr. Soong is a graduate of Harvard University in America.

Mr. Wang Ching Wei's friends in Canton claim that Mr. Wang has received assurance from sufficient members of the Kuomintang Central Executive Committee to form a quorum in Canton for a meeting some time this month.

Regarding the much-talked-of northern expedition against General Tang Seng Chi, leader of a faction in the now divided Kuomintang, General Wong Shiung Hung of Kwangsi is said to be in favour of it; and as soon as General Wong returns from Wuchow to Canton, the Political Council in Canton will order an attack on Hunan, the base of operations of General Tang, who still claims to be a follower of the Kuomintang.

HATRED OF THE REDS.

The Bureau of Agriculture and Labour last week ordered the proscription of the Match-workers Union in Canton, alleging that some of the members were connected with the "Reds." It appears that the "Reds" are still hated in Canton, despite some reports to the contrary.

The last week-end in Canton saw the proscription of four alleged "Red" labour unions. They include the River Cargo Boat Seamen's Union, the Leather Shoemakers' Union, the Drug Shops Workers Union, and the Canton Match-workers Union.

Six casks of gun powder shipped under the invoice as dried olives were discovered on the train No. 12 from Tin-tong-wai to Shungching, Chinese Section of the Canton-Kowloon Railway last week.

Kuomintang leaders in Hing, after the capture of a batch of "Reds" who raided that town several days ago, used the ancient system of torture on their prisoners. An alleged chief of the women "Reds" was publicly exhibited after her arms had been cut off, according to a message to the Hung Kong Sun Pao.

Owing to demands for military expenditure and the necessity of the Kuomintang Central Bank in Canton facilitating the authorities, the banks and business firms in Canton which have not yet contributed their allotment towards the $10,000,000 "loan" desired by the Party, have been ordered to do so at once. So far less than $7,000,000 has been collected.

Mr. Foo Ping Kwan, a Hong Kong boy, brother of Mr. Foo Ping Sheung, formerly Superintendent of Customs in Canton, has been appointed Superintendent of Customs at Kiungchow. The Foo brothers are related to Dr. C. C. Wu, the Nanjing Foreign Minister of the Kuomintang. Mr. Tam Siu Wai, Superintendent of Customs at Swatow, is also related to Mr. Foo and Dr. C. C. Wu.

November 12th being the birthday anniversary of the late Dr. Sun Yat Sen, some of his admirers in Canton wish to have a celebration and have called on the authorities to appropriate $10,000 or $15,000 for the purpose. Canton is becoming a city of holidays and parades. As the printers will take holiday it is unlikely any newspapers will be published on the 12th.

CANTON OR NANKING.

Members of the Kuomintang Central Executive Committee in Canton, mostly recent arrivals, met at the home of Mr. Wang Ching Wei, the other day, and decided that they might go to Nanking for the fourth session of the Committee, provided that the Special Committee now claiming to function as the central party and administrative power for the Nationalist movement should cease immediately and that, before any formal session is in Nanking, a meeting should be held either at Shanghai or Canton. It may be recalled that both the leaders of the party now at Nanking and Canton have called for a meeting of the Central Executive Committee but they have not agreed upon any place of meeting, some insisting on Canton and others upon Nanking. If there is no compromise regarding the place of meeting, it is not expected that any faction will be able to provide a quorum for the transaction of business.

Mr. Kan Nei Kwang, a former student of Canton Christian College and an active politician in Canton, being also a member of the Central Executive Committee of the Kuomintang, is being mentioned for Mayor of Canton City. If things come his way, Mr. Kan is expected to assume charge of the mayoralty to-day or to-morrow. Mr. Kan is a Kwangsi-ite, a fellow provincial of General Li Tsai Han.

The Ship Owners Guild in Canton are again asking the Canton Authorities to relieve members of the nuisance of having their vessels commandeered for military transportation service without adequate notification in advance and the payment of a fee for service. The worst part of the nuisance is that some militarists commandeered private vessels nominally for troop or provision transport but actually to carry merchandise for private parties from whom the militarists collect the freight charge.

Miss Lee Lai Jong has been appointed principal of the Canton Girls' Normal School. The school is a public one, and many teachers of the municipal schools in Canton are graduates of the school.

In Canton the Young Men's Christian Association are organising a health exhibition in order to interest the public in the better care of children. In Hong Kong the Young Women's Christian Association is doing this, and beginning to-day, November 7th, there will be lectures and examinations for child welfare in the Y.W.C.A. rooms on China Road.

VERNACULAR PRESS DESCRIBES HANKOW AS "IN A FRIGHTFUL STATE."

OFFICIALS TRANSFERRING THEIR FAMILIES TO FOREIGN CONCESSIONS.

NATIONAL ARMY GRADUALLY MAKING HEADWAY IN HUPEH.

GENERAL YANG SEN OF SZECHUAN JOINS THE NATIONALISTS.

POLITICAL RE-SHUFFLE IN PEKING: FENGTIENESE DISSATISFIED WITH PREMIER.

Quite apart from the deplorable state of affairs left as a legacy of the Reds' madness in Hankow, that city is now in a worst plight by the approach of the Nanking Army, against whom, it appears, the troops of General Tang Seng Chi are no match. The vernacular Press states that Hankow is in a "frightful state" and that high local officials are sending their families into the adjoining concessions for safety.

The Nanking Army is now all the more formidable by the addition of General Yang Sen, whose troops are coming down from the Upper Yangtze to assist in the attack upon General Tang Seng Chi in his defence of Hankow.

Marshal Feng's troops claim to have recaptured Lanfung in Honan.

It appears that all is by no means well politically with Peking, and that soon there will be a considerable re-shuffle of the Cabinet. The Premier, Mr. Pan Fu, is reported to have failed to fill the coffers of his military masters, with the result that he will probably soon have to give way to General Yang Yu Ting, who has for some time past been Dictator Chang Tso Lin's Chief of Staff.

TROUBLE FEARED AT HANKOW.

[NAVAL WIRELESS.]

HANKOW, Nov. 4th.

"Internal trouble is feared in addition to the threats from outside. Labour unions have already been responsible for a number of disturbances, and financial difficulties may very shortly cause still further complications.

The authorities here are short of funds and complications may ensue. Labour unions are restless and causing some trouble.

(Wah Tsz Yat Pao.)

"In A Frightful State."

Hankow is now in a frightful state, and a number of high officials in Hankow are transferring their families to the foreign concessions. The 8th and 11th Divisions of General Yang Sen's Army have arrived at Ichang for the purpose of participating in the expedition against Tang Seng Chi.

The Military Council to direct the expedition in western Hupeh against Hankow, includes Lu Tek Ping, Fang Chiu Wu, Yang Sen and Chen Ku Jen.

Desperate Fighting In Honan.

PEKING, Nov. 5th.

In spite of official reports that the (pro-Fengtien) Shantung troops have been uniformly successful in Honan province, it is persistently stated in Chinese circles that the picture has been overdrawn. Vernacular papers and other Chinese sources report that General Chang Tsung Chang's main (Shantung) army, after weeks of desperate fighting, has been thrown back, and that Marshal Feng Yu Hsiang's Kuomintang, has recaptured Kai-feng, to the east of which heavy fighting is now going on.

Nationalist Troops Mutiny At Tungchow.

Nationalist troops have mutinied at Tungchow, but the Nationalists have now taken the situation in hand.

NANKING, Nov. 5th.

19 carriages full of troops have arrived from the south. The British Consulate, is now unoccupied.

CHINKIANG, Nov. 5th.

Junks are being commandeered, indicating the possibility of a re-treatment by Southern forces who are reported to have suffered heavy losses in Shantung.

The Concession here is almost entirely evacuated by soldiers. Large numbers of junks still continue to proceed to the Grand Canal.

SEVERE WARNING TO GERMANY.

HER FINANCIAL CONDITION FIRMLY CRITICIZED.

AGENT-GENERAL OF REPARATIONS EXPRESSES HIS VIEWS.

[THROUGH REUTER'S AGENCY.]

BERLIN, November 6th.

A severe warning to Germany is contained in a Memorandum by Sir Gilbert Parker, Agent-General of Reparations, the text of which is now published.

The Memorandum declares that if the present tendencies are unchecked, the consequences are almost certain to be serious economic reaction and depression and a severe shock to German credit at home and abroad.

The remedy consists primarily of reversing the tendencies toward over-spending and over-borrowing and applying strict economy in ordered public finance.

Sir Gilbert Parker stresses the point that the Finance Minister's actions contravene the policy laid down in his speeches. If the German Government acts promptly, it has the power to prevent a crisis.

The Agent-General is of opinion that the Reich, by failing to restrain expenditure, is endangering the stability of the Budget, which is the corner-stone of the experts' plan for the reconstruction of Germany. Should these tendencies continue unchecked it will encourage the impression that Germany is not acting with due regard to her Reparations obligations.

The Reply.

The Finance Minister, in reply, agrees as to the necessity for strict economy, but points out the extreme difficulty when vital matters of the national life are viewed only from the financial standpoint. He declares that payment of the Reparations obligations is covered by the yield of pledged securities, and that the German Government desires to do their utmost to help to solve the Reparations problems.

SHANGHAI DISASTER

COLLAPSE OF CINEMA BUILDING IN CHAPEI DISTRICT.

135 WOMEN AND CHILDREN KILLED.

[THROUGH REUTER'S AGENCY.]

SHANGHAI, Nov. 5th.

A meeting of 300 Chinese flature workers, who had congregated in a cinema in Chapei this afternoon for the purpose of inaugurating a new Labour Union, had a disastrous termination when the building collapsed as the audience stood up to applaud the election of officers.

The fatalities number 135 women and children, whilst about 300 are seriously injured.

The entire third floor, on which the meeting was being held, collapsed and dropped to the second floor, which gave way, followed by the walls, burying the entire crowd in the debris of brick, plasters, tiles, and splintered timbers. Chinese military surrounded the area and assisted the Police in extricating the bodies of those killed and the people injured.

First aid was brought to the scene, the injured being rushed to hospitals where doctors operated on the more serious cases immediately. As far as is at present known the only man killed was Yen Hsin, a local Labour leader, who was assisting in the ceremonies.

[THROUGH REUTER'S AGENCY.]

He hoped the South African Party and the Nationalists would combine to form a South African National Party and secure the loyal adherence of labour.

His death is believed to be due to suffocation as his oxygen tube was found to be severed, apparently accidentally cut, by a knife found in Gray's hand.

According to the last entry in his log, Gray had reached an altitude of 40,000 feet.

The Postmaster of Sparta states that the barograph registers an altitude of 43,000 feet. A similar climb of over 32,000 feet on May 4th was disallowed because the airman was forced to descend in a parachute.

Montpelier is still cut off and no assistance is possible until the floods subside, but a journalist who flew there reports that three lives were lost when the reservoir burst and that an indescribable scene of desolation everywhere meets the eye. Seven thousand persons are homeless. Some have encamped on the hillsides while others have sheltered in the public buildings that are still standing.

A wireless message from Burlington (Vermont) states that 35 were drowned of whom 17 were State employees. They were entrapped in a boarding-house in the path of the waters.

The residents of Montpelier are suffering from the cold weather, as the authorities have commandeered the coal.

The water is 30 feet deep in some of the streets. The city hall is a ruin and a number of hotels and shops have been destroyed. The houses were ripped apart, trees were torn down, 7 railway bridges were wrecked and rail tracks towards the city were twisted.

The registry ceremony is expected to take place at Bonn on November 24th.

[A telegram of the 29th ultimo reported—Alexander Zoubkoff, the impetuous scion of a minor Russian noble family, whose marriage next week to Princess Schaumburg-Lippe will give him the ex-Kaiser as a brother-in-law, has issued an indignant denial of the report that he once earned his living as a dancing partner and wishes the statement contradicted as it "annoys the Princess." He insists also on a correction of his age—"he is not twenty-three but twenty-eight." The bride, who is sixty-two, bitterly complains of Press attacks as regards the disparity in age and says that experience compensates him for what he lacks in age.]

MR. RONALD McNEILL ON THE LEAGUE.

HAS AVERTED "AT LEAST ONE CONFLICT."

CONFIDENT OF ITS SUCCESS.

[BRITISH WIRELESS SERVICE.]

RUGBY, November 5th.

Mr. Ronald McNeill (now Lord Cushendun) made, at Canterbury last night, his first speech since his promotion to the Cabinet. He said that the most important duties of his new office would be in connection with the League of Nations. That would involve very heavy responsibility but, on the other hand, if it should enable him to contribute even in a fractional degree to the banishing of the menace of future war and making peace more durable and secure that would be work more useful, honourable and blessed than any other he could imagine.

Maintenance Of Peace.

That was the purpose of the League of Nations. The League had already done a great deal to provide for the maintenance of peace. It had, he believed, averted at least one conflict which but for League would almost certainly have broken out, and it had made it more difficult and dangerous for any state to pursue a deliberately provocative or aggressive policy against its neighbours. Much more remained to be done in the same direction, but he firmly believed that if the operations of the League were conducted with patience and prudence and in a practical spirit it would succeed as nothing else in the history of the world had yet succeeded, he would not say in making war impossible but in placing peace on a surer foundation than ever before. What unspeakable relief that would be to mankind.

Another war on a large scale would wipe out civilization, and it was, therefore, literal truth to say that it was on the League of Nations that the faith and hope of the future must be fixed for reducing to a minimum the danger of such a catastrophe.

Reference To His Predecessor.

He was conscious of difficulty of difficulty of following Lord Cecil, of whom there was no more sincere admirer than himself. He believed, however, that English people of all parties will be quite as convinced as Lord Cecil himself of the necessity of a limitation of armaments by international agreement. There was no nation to whom peace was of more real concern than to us and there was no nation more anxious that we were not to waste unnecessary skillings in unproductive expenditure. We should not, however, lose sight of fact that we had already, both by international agreement and of our own accord, made very large reductions in our fighting equipment and we were ready to go as far along the same road as might be found compatible with the safety of our country and commerce.

A Delusion.

We should delude ourselves if we assumed that war would be impossible even if armaments in every country were reduced to vanishing point. If there were no weapons in existence there would still remain skill and materials for making them. Peace must rest on a moral as well as a material basis. What was needed was not merely a reduction of armaments but a removal of distrust between nations. The cause of distrust was the sense of insecurity. No single individual had done so much to remove that sense of insecurity as Sir Austen Chamberlain.

The Treaty of Locarno had given a new feeling of security to two great military nations and had, however, given a firmer foundation to peace in one of the chief danger zones of Europe. Similar compacts covering other areas might spread with the boundaries of treaty.

Value Of Arbitration.

Another valuable provision against the danger of war was to increase the reliance on arbitration as a means of settling international disputes. In this, Britain had always led the way. We had signed many more arbitration treaties than any other country and we had submitted to arbitration numbers of questions even where important national interests were involved.

In conclusion, Mr. McNeill said he would make it his aim to the best of his ability to enhance the prestige of the League of Nations, and promote its usefulness. At the same time he could not forget that for a British Minister the first duty of all was to maintain British interests but he did not believe that essential British interests, one of the first of which was peace, ought ever to be at variance with the League of Nations which interests were supported in a reasonable and conciliatory spirit.

CRICKET.

INTERPORT TRIAL.

TEAM FINALLY SELECTED.

The Interport Trial played on Saturday on the Club ground proved perhaps a trifle unsatisfactory, but this was only to be expected owing to the cussedness of things, and the fact that everything in the garden had been lovely on Wednesday last! I must admit I was surprised that the "Interport nine plus two others" did not bat first by arrangement as the other side's bowlers were on trial. However, "Dialler v. team."

Absentees.

I learn that most unfortunately the doctors have warned E. B. Reid that his knee and foot are hardly fit enough to risk the strain of one or two two-days matches. I believe that Reid very sportingly at once withdrew his name from serious consideration (and very properly so), but I was told he was turning out on Saturday. He was, however, an absentee, presumably through a misunderstanding of which I have no knowledge.

Hinchcliffe came in for Barber whose recent injury has not yet allowed him to take the cricket field again. Hinton was also playing as substitute. The Interporters appeared as scheduled to turn out.

The Play.

I must frankly confess that I was myself busy chasing a ball last Saturday, and so my brief account of the innings of the Rest and of the first two wickets of Pearce's side is compiled from hearsay.

The batting of the Rest was rather curative in its vicinity. Fincher played a good knock for 74 (not), though at the start he was a bit scratchy. Hankey managed to stop a bit but it was necessary to close down fairly early and Morris declared with 123 on the board, for five wickets, which had been compiled with some difficulty as the wicket was definitely bad and the ball was popping a lot.

Interporters' Bat.

The Interport side then went in to bat, but with a slightly varied order. (It previously had been more or less arranged, I was told, and I published it last Friday.)

Hayward and Brice started but early on Brice was unluckily out at first slip from a ball from Hankey which got up quickly. Hunt settled down very well and Hayward in view of the badness of the pitch tried to force the pace. He was a bit lucky as two or three patches were put down, but he probably played the right game and had collected 42 when Yorked by Parker. After this Hunt got a bit discouraged by the way in which the ball was kicking up off the wicket and hit all across one from Thorp. Just previously Ramsey had flicked at a rising ball on the off from Parker and was nicely taken at first slip by Thorp. Pearce came in about 5.25 p.m. in a bad light on a kicking wicket and in my opinion his fifteen not out will rank higher than many of his bigger scores. In spite of the way the ball got up he always seemed master of the situation and managed to connect in the middle of the bat.

Comment.

The badness of the wicket made it a little difficult to judge form. Interest centered round the two vantage places. I very much regret I did not see the whole innings for I am told on the one hand that Reid and Parker bowled very well; and on the other that they really were not particularly good. As I was not present for the whole time I should not like to express an opinion.

The Outcome.

Again to my surprise the Selection Committee proceeded to meet and after a long discussion (seen and heard) it was announced that F. Goodwin and L. J. B. A. Hankey had been chosen. I don't think it is any good pretending that the Committee's action will not in certain quarters at least produce a certain amount of adverse criticism, both as to the selections and as to the policy. Personally I entirely agree with them and I feel sure that on the whole they have picked the best team possible. There are, I think, less chances of collapse, and though one cannot guarantee any one from failing to come off I don't think the present team will suffer from cold feet.

I hope to analyse its composition in my notes on Friday next.

R. ABBIT.

THE LEAGUE.

C.S.C.C.'s DECISIVE WIN.

Fine weather favoured cricketers on Saturday and many matches were played, three of which were in the League. Good batting and bowling performances have again to be recorded both in the League and in the Recreation Club "B" matches.

The Indian Recreation Club "B" who have been promoted this season to the first division, evidently find first division cricket a much different proposition from those in the second. On Saturday they lost their consecutive match when they met the Civil Service Cricket Club on their own ground. In the second division the Police, after recent failures, won by a small margin against the Royal Engineers. The R.A.O.C. did well in beating the Royal Navy Second at King's Park. The outstanding batting performances were by F. J. de Rome (C.S.C.C.), 70, and C. F. Alexander (Police), 78. Staff-Sergt. Walker also did well in compiling 51. Hamilton took 4 wickets for 9 runs, an excellent achievement in the first division. Good averages were also recorded in the second division. Pte. Lake (R.A.O.C.) took 5 wickets for 17 runs. Orchard (R.N.) captured 3 for 5 runs in four overs.

In the friendly matches several big scores were made. The Civil Service made 200. The Scots Guards, whom they beat, could only manage 35, the lowest score of the day.

The details follow:—

LEAGUE—DIVISION I.

INDIAN R.C. "B" v. CIVIL SERVICE.

Played on the Indian Recreation Club ground. The Home side who batted first were dismissed for 23 runs only. Hamilton being in a large measure responsible for the collapse. Civil Service made 170 runs for the loss of 4 wickets.

CORRESPONDENCE.

THE INTERPORT ELEVEN.

[TO THE EDITOR OF THE "HONG KONG DAILY PRESS."]

Sir,—The brilliant display given by E. C. Fincher when he carried his bat through the innings for a score of 74 runs in the cricket match, Interporters versus The Rest, was the outstanding feature of Saturday's play. Not only on the strength of that performance, but in view of his excellent record in local cricket, I am strongly of opinion—an opinion which is, I am sure, shared by a large number of followers of the great summer game—that Fincher should have been selected to represent Hong Kong in the forthcoming triangular Interport Games.

If I remember aright, Fincher's name appeared around the top of the list of batting averages at the close of the last season. I have followed this young cricketer's progress with a great deal of interest and am convinced that he is one of Hong Kong's outstanding players, a very sound bat and a good fielder.

Fincher was unlucky to have been dismissed for a "duck" at the first Interport trial match, but on Saturday he more than made up for that earlier reverse, with the exception of that difficult chance early in the game Fincher treated the spectators to a sterling exhibition, giving a fine all-round display of clever hitting against the pick of Hong Kong's bowlers and remaining undefeated when the innings was declared closed.

I am not personally acquainted with Mr. Fincher, but, in fairness to him and in recognition of his ability at the game, I would urge that he might be given the opportunity to play for Hong Kong in the Interport Series.

He will be strongly supported by a whole host of Hong Kong boys and I feel certain that he will not disappoint us.—Yours faithfully,

CRITIC.

HOME FOOTBALL RESULTS.

SATURDAY'S LEAGUE MATCHES.

SOME GOOD SCORING: NORTHANTS NET TEN GOALS.

Saturday was one of the highest scoring days in the English Football League this season. No fewer than 181 goals were registered, of which 130 were netted by home playing teams.

There was some good scoring all through the League, with a number of sixes and sevens, and one score of ten goals for one team. One match—Rotherham United and Wigan Boro—was abandoned owing to bad weather, when the home team were leading in the second half by six goals to nil.

In Division I, Bolton and Everton, both playing at home, won their fixtures by a margin of seven goals to one goal. There were no away wins in this Division, but two matches were drawn. Tottenham also scored five goals.

There were many 4-1 and 4-0 victories for home teams in Division II, but the highest score obtained was five goals by South Shields.

In Division III (Southern), the outstanding feature was the 10 goals to nil victory obtained by Northants against Walsall.

In Division III (Northern), Wrexham netted five times and Nelson on four occasions.

The total goals scored by home and away teams will be found below. Those in the Rotherham match are not included.

There have been few material changes in the League tables, except for a shifting in position on account of goal averages. Leaders in each Division remain the same. Portsmouth are now last in Division I. In Division III (Southern), Northants by their fine win have obtained a useful goal average, which will take some beating, and are fairly secure in their position at the top. Plymouth continue to improve.

H.V.D.C. SPORTS.

INFANTRY WIN UNIT CHALLENGE CUP.

SOME KEEN COMPETITION.

The annual athletic sports of the Hong Kong Volunteer Defence Corps, held on Saturday afternoon at the Kowloon Cricket Club, proved very successful. The weather was ideal. There was a large attendance of spectators and some keen competition was witnessed.

The sports were under the patronage of H.E. the Officer Administering the Government and H.E. the General Officer Commanding the South China Command. Mrs. Southern was also present, and at the conclusion of the sports distributed the prizes to the winners.

The Infantry won the cup with a total of 18 points, whilst the Scots and Portuguese tied for runners-up position with 14 points each. ## BOXING.

PHIL. SCOTT OUTCLASSED.

[REUTERS' AMERICAN SERVICE.]

New York, Nov. 6th.
Knut Hansen, the Dane, knocked out Phil. Scott, the British heavyweight champion, in the first round of the heavyweight eliminating series to decide Tunney's challenger.

Scott inappropriately entered the ring clad in a tigerskin pattern dressing-gown. He was greeted with cheers which redoubled when Dempsey shook him by the hand as he reached his post. Within a few seconds Scott was felled by a left jab and took a count of three. He rose immediately and resumed in a horizontal posture. A succession of knock-downs followed with fifteen thousand spectators derisive at Scott's impotence.

Foul Claimed.
It is claimed that the fourth knock-down caught him on the low left of the groin. The general opinion is that the blow was low but not sufficiently so to constitute it a foul.

The weights were: Scott 195 lbs.; Hansen 207 lbs.
It was a most sensational two minutes' fighting in which Scott was down six times without response.

Scott was entirely outclassed. A claim for a foul has been registered but it is unlikely that the decision will be reversed.

Baghdad, Oct. 13th.
Although only one case of cholera has been reported in Baghdad, this being a case which was brought to the city from an outlying district, the Egyptian authorities state that all travellers to Egypt from Baghdad will be quarantined on arrival until five days have elapsed since the date on which they left Baghdad.

The regulation applies to Imperial Airways passengers, who, according to the new programme, will fly from Baghdad to Cairo in one day.

DAILY WATERFRONT NEWS.

(By LONGSHOREMAN.)

To Avoid Piracy.

With a view to avoiding piracy,
local Chinese merchants are now contemplating sending their goods to Canton by the river steamers, instead of junks.

Another suggestion has been that four launches should leave here at the same time, each towing two junks.

Mixing Junk.

A trading junk of Yamati left
Hong Kong on October 19th for Hau Hoi with general cargo. On board were a crew of ten persons, including a son and two daughters of the mistress of the craft, who, however, did not go with it. Since that date nothing has been heard of the junk.

Japanese Cruiser.

The Japanese cruiser, Uji, arrived in port again on Saturday morning. The usual salutes were exchanged.

Mails.

Arriving in port late on Friday,
the s.s. Liangchow landed no fewer than 440 bags of mail, which included Northern letters and papers for Hong Kong. Yesterday the Home papers (dated London, October 6th), brought via Negapatam. The President Jefferson came in from Manila, and the Korea Maru from Shanghai, each bringing mail.
Today the President Hayes and President Grant are due. They will bring United States, Japan and Shanghai mail, and mail from Europe via Siberia.

New Harbour Launch.

The Harbour Department are asking for tenders for the supply of one oak wood motor driven launch, capable of a speed of 10 knots. The stipulation is made that the price shall not exceed $7,000.

Chinese Deck Passengers.

Chinese deck passengers entering the Colony during the 24 hours ended at 9 a.m. on Saturday numbered 570; during the 24 hours ended yesterday there were 1,775.

Beacons to be Removed.

Notice is given by the Harbour
Master, Canton, that, on or about November 10th, the beacons marking Junk Passage through Cambridge Barrier will be removed and the lights no longer exhibited.
